About This Game

QLORB is a puzzle game designed to take the simplicity of games like tetris and deconstruct it into something familiar but different. With QLORB, 2 sets of blocks must merge into 1 perfect block. In order for this to be accomplished the player must clear away all of the blue blocks so the red blocks have room. Each level progressively increases in puzzle size and the puzzles are also randomly created. With increasing size, randomly created puzzles, and multiple speeds QLORB offers hours of replay ability and interesting puzzles to complete.

FEATURES

- Randomly Created Puzzles
- 3 Speed Settings(Increases Difficulty)
- Progressively Harder Levels
- Simple Controls

Version 1.0.2 has been released. Please see to the list of changes::

- We have added additional video settings in Main Menu/ Help & Options/ Video. Try with different settings for optimal quality/performance. Please note that this version overrides your previous settings, so you may want to change them to take advantage of your PC performance.
- Xbox 360 pad (or compatible) has been set as primary controller. If you have more than one controller and one of them is Xbox controller, only this one will work. If you want to play with another controller, please unplug the Xbox 360 controller.
- When running the game on laptop with 2 video cards, please make sure that dedicated card is on while running the game. You can switch on your dedicated video card in video card's driver panel.

Corrections and improvements are listed below:

- Game performance improvements
- New Vsync options in Main Menu/ Help&Options/ Video/. To get the highest possible Vsync rates you might need to lower the game's resolution. With some low profile PC it might be better to turn Vsync off
- Support for non-Xbox 360 game pads. Note: if your game pad has an X/D switch please choose the X position
- Units in Precise Aim stunt ("cm" instead of "m")
- Bug with some rare case of "Streets paved with gold" achievement not being unlocked
